

Again Money is Tight!

Perhaps you're not a financier. You may not know the full meaning, the awful meaning, of a tight money market. But you do know the results; bank after bank forced to the wall—failure upon the heels of failures—in Chicago—in New York—everywhere, everywhere! That's a tight money market! Everybody wants money just when nobody seems to have any. Dry goods men also want money—must have money at any price, at any sacrifice—to prevent time-honored names from being trampled in the dust.

Who has the Money? Who has the Gold?

Is the cry! The TEMPLE OF FASHION had the money and exchanged it for Clothing, Shoes, Fine Dress Goods, Trimmings, Etc., at such advantage as to almost appear incredible; but the goods are here to speak for themselves—goods that are as fine as any made in the United States—sold to us for a trifle. They must move—they must be exchanged for money, at any sacrifice, in order to keep our stock up to its well known high standard. A sacrifice sale of tremendous proportions has been inaugurated at White Stockings are the thing now. Fair Bros. & Co. have them.

For sale at any time and in any quantity at Stevens & Collins.

Speaking of Ribbons you should see Fair Bros. & Co.'s assortment.

There were 18 teachers enrolled the day of the Institute here.

Our Business and Mills are enjoying a good deal of what they will bring.

CARSON & CO.

For convenience to and from Beaver Dam, call on Sam L. Casbeer.

Next Friday is trustee day of the Ohio County Teachers' Institute.

Go to Schampine and get his price on shoes. He will treat you right.

Mrs. L. F. Warner, who has been ill for the past ten days, is improving.

Call on C. B. Martin at Williams & Bell's Drug Store for all kinds of jewelry.

Call on L. F. Fournier at Robinson's.

You can get the best of food for your horse at Casbeer & Burton's during Corn Week.

C. B. Martin will appreciate work, such as repairing watches, jewelry and spectacles.

A. B. Martin, the best jeweler in Kentucky, is still in the city and wants your work.

Our affairs here, Mr. Holmer Martin, is quite sick at his home on Main street.

There was an $80,000 fire at Fourth and Jefferson streets, Louisville, last Monday night.

Mr. Dan Antmire and Miss Annie Woodworth were married at the residence of Mrs. Will Pirtle last Sunday.

Remember that C. B. Martin has Williams & Bell's Drug Store ready to do all kinds of watch, clock and jewelry repairing.

The ice cream supper given at the Rebecca Vaughn's by the ladies of the F. F. church last Thursday night, was a success.

Fair Bros. & Co. want the trade of Ohio county teachers. Come and buy your goods and give us an order on the Superintendent.

Married, at the Hartford House, Elder J. H. James officiating, Mr. B. F. Wallace to Mrs. Tilda Westerfield, August 7th, 1893.

Commonwealth's Attorney J. E. Rowe and family have taken rooms at the Hartford House and will board there in the future.

Do you wear corsets? This doesn't concern you if you are a man, but if you are a woman, you are a lady, try one of our R. & G. summer corsets.

Fair Bros. & Co.

The colored brethren and sisters of the Methodist church of Hayti, will have a camp meeting at the Fair Grounds next Friday and will continue two weeks.

Call on H. C. Pate for anything you may need in the grocery line. He is one of the best barbers in the Green River country. Try him and you will be convinced.

Rev. Fleming, the colored Baptist minister, and Mrs. Sellen have a considerable crop on Walnut street Monday afternoon, in which it is said, Dora came out the worm off.

Rev. G. B. McDonald filed his regular report as pastor of the Wesleyan church last Sunday at 11 a. m. and at night. He had a large and attentive audience at both services.

Miss Laura Martin entertained quite a number of her young friends at a most enjoyable party Friday evening. Elegant refreshments were served and the evening was most pleasantly spent.

The actress of fashion tried to rub gloves out of style lately, but the Princess of Wales approved full-gloved mitts and the Fair Bros. & Co. at once laid in a stock. Come and see.

The Owensboro Woolen Mills are again knitting five hundred yards fine large all wool blankets. These blankets are made from best home-grown wool and will be found superior to any in the market.

Prof. O. M. Shultz, Vice President of Hartford College, will deliver a lecture on education at Centerville, Kentucky, August 10th.

Prof. Shultz is a brilliant talker and will entertain his audience.

If you don't believe Schampine can save you money on shoes, just try one pair and compare the prices and wear of shoes you have bought at other places herebefore and you will be convinced that he can save you money on footwear.

D. E. Thomas, a groceryman, set a steel trap in his rear room on Market street last Wednesday night to catch rats, and imagine his other astonishment when next morning when he went to his room, he found a rat in his trap, and his rat, half grown, upon awaiting his capture.

We hope the unfortunate conflict between the Teachers' Institute and Circuit Court may not occur again. The Hartford is somewhat of a school for school people himself, albeit he is not taught for sometime, and he dislikes to miss the good inspirations which always come to him from those truly noble and earnest folk, the teachers.

The Ohio County Fair, which convenes September 27 and continues four days, will be one of the best and most successful ever held in Ohio County. You should feel the breeze of one of their novelty fairs. A friend mailed us a copy of the program. A. T. Hall and get free of cost.

Do you need dry goods, clothing, shoes, hats, caps, notions, hardware, queensware, tinware, crockery, cutlery, or a short article usually kept in a first-class, well equipped grocery and mercantile store? If so, call at Robinson's and you will be satisfied.

Signs, can furnish you at first cost on all large signs. This is so small matter when it comes to laying in stock for a large family. Have the merchant's part, by buying at Smallhorns.

Rev. G. W. Gordon, of Beaver Dam, KY., will accept our thanks for a very valuable and much appreciated addition to our desk of curious things. His contribution is a miniature map, found on Elm street, Cook county, Texas, by J. H. L. Owen, seven years ago, and given to Rev. Gordon during his visit there two years ago. The map, which has a silver appearance, has evidently passed through a state of petrification. You should call and see it.

Mr. F. W. Pirtle was nominated at the recent home Monday by the Third party for Representative, and in his speech of acceptance said he wanted the Democrats and Republicans to unite and elect a good man, because if he is elected he wants to lead a good man if he is elected, and of course he will be elected if he is elected by a good man. He boasted considerably of his record as a voter and referred his audience to Clark's office, and wound up by saying that he had never cast but one vote and was ashamed of it and wished he could recall that vote and throw it into the wastebasket.

A. B. Martin, the best jeweler in Kentucky, is still in the city and wants your work.

C. B. Martin will appreciate work, such as repairing watches, jewelry and spectacles.

Fifty thousand pounds wool wanted in exchange for woolen goods at Owensboro Woolen Mills.

D. S. Dennis, McHenry, is here with his photograph. You should listen to the latest artistic results.

A. B. Martin, Carson & Co.'s husband, has been called upon by twenty pounds of brown sugar for $1.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Martin entertained a few young people at the Hartford House last Saturday night.

Teachers, call on Martin for watches and clocks; also have your old watches fixed up so as to be ready for teaching.

Died, at his home near the Water Fort, Mrs. Mary M. Martin, wife of Mr. Martin, at 11 o'clock Saturday night.

The remains were taken to the residence of Mrs. Martin, where they will be interred Thursday.

Our furniture room is chock full of new furniture.

Carson & Co.

Mr. James Ballenger with a force of hands has just completed a fine job of work on the Owensboro levee just north of town. The long bridge near the Fair Grounds has been removed and a high levee taken its place. The work is well done and the road will probably be as good as a new road there can be made. The whole of the levee ought to be made of stone, but within the last few years since Mr. Ballenger has had charge of that portion of the road it has been changed by careful working from one of the worst roads on earth to as good a dirt road as there is in the county.

Hot Trail.

The Owensboro Messenger and Inquirer came out announcing in detail last week the killing of Felix Pool by the friends of J. W. York who live near Hartford.

It was stated in these articles that Pool was in a widow's residence near Reynolds' Station and the mob surrounded the house, and the lady was ordered to vacate, which she did and where Pool attempted to escape through a back window he was placed by many bullets which resulted in his immediate death. We have thoroughly investigated the matter and find that there was not the slightest foundation for such a report. While Felix Pool is none too good to commit a rape or any other crime, was a reliable informant that he never even attempted to commit a rape on the party mentioned in the Owensboro papers. At the time the flaming articles appeared, Felix Pool was on the north side of the Ohio river and very far from Owensboro very much alive.

The truth on Ohio county, just at this time, is bad enough, so please confine your story strictly to that and help us out all you can. We would say to the Owensboro papers that if they read the facts of Ohio county read the Herald.

An Old Citizen Gone.

Mr. Eliza Coleman died Monday evening at the home of his son, Dr. J. C. Coleman, at 220 College street, at 7 years, 7 months and 2 days.

Eliza Coleman, who was commonly called, was one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Ohio county. The funeral was preached yesterday evening at Beaver Dam by Rev. J. C. Coleman, and J. K. McKelvey and T. C. Casbeer, after which he was laid to rest in the cemetery at Beaver Dam.

His biography in full will appear in next week's Herald.

Current Court Notes.

A MINISTER'S TRIALS.

SOME FUNNY STORIES OF EARLY EXPERIENCES.

A Woman Who Did Not Weep Much Over Her Husband's Death, and a Couple on Marriage Bed.

"SAVING A BLESSING."

A minister who first parish was in the city of London, England, was a man of great beauty and great wealth. He was a man of great beauty and great wealth.

He was one day sent for to officiate at the funeral of a man who had fallen from the roof of his barn and killed himself.

Arriving at the house the surprised minister found the bereaved widow weeping and sobbing.

"Come right in, if you can get in," said the minister. "I will be glad to see you."

"I have it now," said the minister. "I will be glad to see you."
